The law firm of Fenton, Steers, Herbst and Klee has been reorganized under the new name of Fenton, Steers, Beasley and Klee. Louis Herbst has retired from the firm and Bert Beasley, who is Indiana counsel for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Ry., has joined the firm. Mr. Beasley formerly practiced law at Terre Haute, Indiana. Clarence O. Miller, James C. Jay and John D. Hoffman will be associated with the new firm.

Earl E. Keyes, formerly of Peru, Indiana, has formed a law partnership with Markley Frankham for the general practice of the law in New York City. The new firm will have offices at 30 Broad Street, New York.

Oscar Lamphar of Princeton and Robert W. Armstrong of Huntington have formed a partnership for the general practice of the law in the Furniture Building at Evansville, Indiana, under the firm name of Armstrong and Lamphar. They have taken the offices of E. J. Cremshaw of Evansville, who will remove to Harlingen, Texas. Mr. Robert W. Armstrong has been counsel for plaintiff in a great many personal injury cases and is well known as a trial lawyer. Oscar Lamphar was former prosecuting attorney of Gibson County.

D. M. Patrick, formerly of Martinsville, will be associated with Clyde H. Jones in the general practice of the law at Indianapolis, with offices in the Merchants Bank Building.

Earl Peters, a member of the firm of Barrett, Barrett, Peters and McNagny of Fort Wayne, has resigned from that firm to form a partnership with his cousin, Fay W. Leas. The new firm will engage in the general practice of the law at Fort Wayne, Indiana. The firm name will be Peters and Leas and the offices will be in the First National Bank Building.

Clay Phillips will be associated with the law firm of Beasley, Dothitt, Crawford and Beasley soon after July 1st, when Bert Beasley will withdraw from this firm to engage in the practice of the law at Indianapolis.

The following members of the Indiana bar attended the recent meeting of the American Law Institute at Washington, D. C.: Judge Julius C. Travis and Judge Clarence R. Martin of the Indiana Supreme Court; former Judge Louis B. Ewbank of the Indiana Supreme Court and Merrill Moores of Indianapolis, former member of congress; John A. Gavitt, Hammond; Thomas F. Konop, Notre Dame University; Charles M. McCabe, Crawfordsville; and Paul V. McNutt, dean of the Indiana University School of Law.

R. L. Walker, formerly of Danville, has been made a member of the firm of Ralston, Gates, Van Nuys and Barnard of Indianapolis.
