EVENTS & LECTURES

PROF. JOHNSEN TO PARTICIPATE IN AMERICAN STUDIES PANEL

"Meet the New Right: Compassionate Conservatism, Free Market, and State Policy," a panel discussion with Michelle Brown (Criminal Justice), Steven Carr (Communications, IUPUI-FW), Dawn Johnsen, John Lucaites (Communication and Culture), and Radhika Parameswaran (Journalism), will be held on Nov. 29, from 4:00 to 5:30 p.m., at the University Club in the Indiana Memorial Union.

This panel is the inaugural even of the 2001-02 American Studies Lecture Series, devoted to the consideration of the new administration in Washington, D.C. Panelists will address the 'style' of the Bush presidency; the Supreme Court on the separation of powers, George W. Bush on issues of crime and punishment, media coverage of Sept. 11 and its aftermath, and the Sept. 11/Pearl Harbor analogy.

s NEWS FROM THE FACULTY

Kevin Brown's chapter on "Affirmative Action in the United States and the Reservation System in India: Some Comparative Comments" has been published by Indiana University Press in the book Religion and Personal Law in Secular India: A Call to Judgment, edited by Gerald Larson.

NEWS FROM STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

BLANKET COLLECTION TO AID AFGHAN REFUGEES

Blankets, quilts, and sleeping bags in good condition are being collected at the Law School until Dec. 15 for donation to Afghan refugees. The "No More Victims Campaign" is sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee, the Middle Eastern Law Student Association, Amnesty International (Law Chapter), and the Asian Pacific-Islander American Law Student Association. Cash donations will also be accepted and used to purchase blankets. If you have questions, please contact Maria Hermann (ehermann@indiana.edu) or Shafiqah Ahmadi (sahamadi@indiana.edu).

AND THE WINNER IS ...

In last month's Red Cross/Law School blood drive, the Indiana Journal of Global Legal Studies had the highest percentage participation of any student group in the blood drive.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

INFORMATION SESSION ON JOINT DEGREES WITH BUSINESS SCHOOL

On Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 5:00 p.m., a session will be held to inform students about the joint degree offerings (JD-MBA, JD-MPA) between the law school and the business school. James Holmen, director of admissions at the Kelley School of Business, will lead the session; Professor David Greene of the Business School will join him. Current joint-degree students will also be available to answer questions. The session will take place in the third-floor faculty lounge. All first- and second-year students with an interest in these programs are encouraged to attend.

PROF. FISCHMAN SEEKS RESEARCH ASSISTANT

For a variety of environmental law projects (including one on the National Wildlife Refuge System), Professor Fischman seeks a research assistant to begin in January, the earlier the better. Fischman will return from sabbatical in early December and hopes to select a research aide at that time for work beginning the following month. If you are interested, please leave a resume and brief cover letter in his mailbox. Experience in environmental law is not necessary, though helpful. More important are good research, citation, and writing skills, in that order.

EVENTS CALENDAR / ROOM SCHEDULING
