TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 11

LCF Thanksgiving Lunch, Bible Study

Legal Christian Fellowship (LCF) will be holding a Thanksgiving lunch and Bible Study at noon in Room 216. All are welcome. Stop by for some fellowship, lunch, and pumpkin pie!

FLF Gender Equity Coffee, Study Break

The Feminist Law Forum (FLF) is hosting its 3rd Annual Gender Equity Coffee Break. Coffee, donuts and bagels will be bountiful from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Law School Lobby. Your recommended contribution is proportionate to your projected earning potential, as determined by gender and race. All proceeds go to Middleway House, helping victims of domestic violence, right here in Bloomington! Later in the afternoon, take a well-deserved study break, featuring pizza, popcorn, and pop culture. Join FLF and the cast of The Hills at 4:45 p.m. in the Student Lounge for a viewing of a couple of episodes. Discussion about the gender implications to follow.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13

Torture and the "New Warfare"

Professor Bill Scheuerman, of the Indiana University Political Science Department, will present "Torture and the 'New Warfare'" at noon in the Beck House Conference Room, 624 East 3rd St.

Midwest Clinical Law Conference

The 23rd Annual Midwest Clinical Law Conference, "Building Bridges: Creating Clinical Opportunities through Collaboration," will be held Nov. 13-15 at the School of Law. Conference participants will explore all kinds of collaborations within the Law School, within the university, and within the larger community. Keynote speaker Antoinette Sedillo Lopez will remind us why we collaborate and inspire us to look for and try new collaborative opportunities. We will start the conference on Thursday afternoon with two workshops: Teaching Writing to Clinical Law Students and a New Clinicians Workshop. We will end the day with a plenary session "a kind of bridge to the rest of the conference" with a discussion by several experienced clinicians of "If I Knew Then What I Know Now." If you have questions about the Midwest Clinical Law Conference, please e-mail mclc2008@indiana.edu.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14

Untangling Global Life Sciences Intellectual Property Issues

Protecting investments in intellectual property developed at life sciences companies will be the focus of the second seminar in the 2008-09 Indiana Life Sciences Collaboration Conference Series, "Untangling Global Life Sciences Intellectual Property Issues." The conference will take place from 8:50 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. at Cook Medical headquarters at 750 Daniels Way in Bloomington. Faculty from the Indiana University School of Law-Bloomington and IU's Kelley School of Business will be joined by intellectual property attorneys from around the world and key executives at several companies, including Cook Group Inc., Eli Lilly & Co., Roche Diagnostics Operations, Inc. and Zimmer. Rebecca S. Eisenberg, the Robert and Barbara Luciano Professor of Law at the University of Michigan Law School, will give the keynote address, "Protecting Innovation in the Life Sciences: U.S. and International Perspectives." The program has applied for CLE credit. For more information visit <http://www.kelley.iu.edu/cbls/conferences/conf2.html>.

PAD Fashion Show

This year's Phi Alpha Delta (PAD) Fashion Show Auction will be held from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Bluebird on Walnut. Your fellow students will be modeling clothing themed around events we attend as law students and future attorneys. Tickets will be on sale this week every day during the lunch hour in the Law School Lobby at the PAD table. Entry to the event is $5 or a donation of three gently used winter clothing items. Great prize packages will be available as part of the live auction, silent auction, and raffle. Please come out and support this event as all proceeds are donated to The Shalom Center. Also, come bid on the packages this year's models are promoting. Special thanks to this year's models: 3Ls Padeep Nagappa, Yazmine Zaki, and Nicole Elder; 2Ls Pete Hekl, Cynthia Souza, Erin Abbey, Noah Pinegar, Gillian Crowl, and C.R. Davis; and 1Ls Erin McAdams, Justin Agans, Dan Bradley, Chris Nussbaum, and Mehek Manawalia. If you have any questions please contact Kimberly Verest at kverest@indiana.edu. Also, special thank you goes to Andrew Davis Menswear who donated the male models' clothing for this event. Andrew Davis Menswear is located on the square at 101 W. Kirkwood Ave. in Bloomington.

My Vietnam Your Iraq

Department of Telecommunications Professor Ron Osgood will screen segments from his recently completed documentary My Vietnam Your Iraq from 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Poynter Center, 618 E. 3rd St. The documentary features nine families that have a parent who served in Vietnam and a child in Iraq.
