This Week in the Law School

Just a few more days until we head into fall break. Enjoy your time off! A couple of things to note for your return: Stewart Fellowship applications for placements in Argentina, Brazil, Cambodia, Mexico, Thailand, and Vietnam will be due on Oct. 16, the Monday we return. Also on that date, we'll celebrate the official naming of the Milt and Judi Stewart Center on the Global Legal Profession. The Stewarts will be here at 4 p.m. to mark the occasion, as well as to congratulate Prof. Jay Krishnan, who will be named the Milt and Judi Stewart Professor of Law. Plan to join us for this celebration in the Moot Court Room, followed by a reception in the Faculty Lounge.

Indiana Law Bar Support Program: Essay Writing Workshop by Themis

Essay writing skills are key to success in law school and on the bar exam. Themis will be holding an essay writing workshop to review the elements of a good essay answer. They will break down each element of an essay answer into its core components—Issue, Rule, Analysis, and Conclusion—and provide you with strategies and tips for successfully drafting each component. The workshop will focus on developing the two main components of a passing answer – the Rule and Analysis sections. Come review the process of creating a succinct statement of the applicable law and a thorough analysis of the facts with the law. This workshop is open to all 2Ls, 3Ls, and graduate students. Before attending the noon hour workshop, you should have already RSVP’d to Ms. Liz Ferrufino. If you have any questions, please email her (ferrufie@indiana.edu). Lunch will be provided. Room 122, noon.
