How to Be an Ally: Recognizing Our Own Privilege
Join the Diversity Outreach Team at CAPS (Counseling and Psychological Services) for a practical workshop for students and faculty wishing to serve as effective allies. The workshop will focus on how to recognize one’s power and influence.
Participants will learn to begin to recognize their own sources of privilege and ways they may have used this privilege unintentionally to harm people from marginalized populations. They will reflect on these issues and on how they can continue to build on this knowledge and develop more appropriate ways of interacting in the world given their relative power. This will include both personal and professional roles and activities.

This event is brought to you by the Office of Student Affairs as part of the Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Series. Lunch will be provided to those who RSVP on CareerNet. Room 214, noon.

Lunch and Learn with Bose McKinney & Evans

Bose McKinney & Evans LLP is offering a diversity fellowship to a 1L student from a historically underrepresented background who attends Indiana University Maurer School of Law, Indiana University McKinney School of Law or Notre Dame Law School. 1Ls may apply beginning December 1, and applications are due February 3, 2020. To learn more, attend this info session. Pizza will be provided. Details of the fellowship can be found on the Bose McKinney & Evans website. Room 125, noon.

Center for Constitutional Democracy Speaker

Center for Applied Cybersecurity Research Speaker

The Center for Applied Cybersecurity Research Security Speaker Series presents Alan Mislove, Associate Professor, College of Computer and Information Science, Northeastern University. He will speak on “Measuring Bias in Social Network Ad Targeting and Delivery. Room 213, noon.

PILF Pages to Prisoners Volunteer Night

Midwest Pages to Prisoners is a volunteer-run nonprofit in Bloomington that sends free reading materials to incarcerated people in nine states. At this volunteer opportunity, we will help Pages to Prisoners fulfill book requests from prisoners in Indiana. The books that will be sent to the prisoners will have been selected, but Pages to Prisoners needs our help writing handwritten responses to the prisoners to further inform them about Pages to Prisoners and to add a human element to the process. Additionally, we will help package the books, and there will be a representative from Pages to Prisoners at the event to answer any questions or discuss incarceration from their nonprofit's perspective. A non-pizza dinner will be provided. PILF members will receive a PILF point for attendance. Room 122, 5:00-7:00 p.m.

Women in Clerkships: A Panel Discussion

The Judicial Clerkship Committee is delighted to invite everyone in the Law School to attend a panel about women in judicial clerkships and the legal profession in general. Men and women are encouraged to attend. Please join us for an exciting panel discussion!

Stewart Fellows Application Time

The Stewart Fellows Overseas Externship Program, one of the Law School’s summer opportunities for rising 2Ls and 3Ls and housed in the Office of International Programs, anticipates providing four to six placements at the law firm Tilleke & Gibbins for 10-12 weeks.
during the 2020 summer. This includes 2-3 placements in the firm’s flagship office in Bangkok, Thailand; 1-2 placements in the IP-focused office in Hanoi, Vietnam; and one placement in the office in Phnom Penh, Cambodia. Interested students are encouraged to learn more about the firm at their website, tilke.com, and to learn more about the internship experience from program alumni who have had placements there.

At the request of the employer, prior to the application period (December 1 – January 17), interested students are asked to make an appointment for pre-screening with Ms. Lara Gose and Dean Lesley Davis, starting November 4 and ending November 15. Please email Ms. Gose (lgose@indiana.edu) to make an appointment.

NOTE: Students who are interested in other Stewart Fellows placements in Argentina, Brazil, China, Hungary, India, Japan, Mexico, Poland, or South Korea do not need to make an appointment for pre-screening. All applicants may apply for one or more placements through CareerNet beginning December 1, 2019. A complete application will include a resume, cover letter, and the name and contact information of one Law School reference. Program information is available on the law school’s website.

Calling All Veterans: Join Us for Lunch

The Maurer School of Law invites all faculty, staff and student military veterans to a special luncheon on Veteran’s Day (Monday, November 11). RSVP on CareerNet or to katbeck@indiana.edu to let us know if you can join us. Details will be shared upon RSVP.

Protective Order Project Ornaments Sale

Come support POP by buying a Maurer School of Law ornament for the holidays! POP Volunteers will be selling ornaments in the lobby during lunch this week from Monday through Thursday. Ornaments will be $5, and we will be accepting cash, checks, or charges to bursar accounts.

Volunteers Needed: Law Student for a Day

Outreach for Legal Literacy needs volunteers for our November 16th event, Law Student for a Day. At this event, fifth-graders from all around the Bloomington area will be at the school learning what it’s like to be a law student. Activities include a criminal law escape room, a mock Congress, a scavenger hunt, and more.

Volunteers may be working with the kids directly or helping with behind-the-scenes event operations. You can sign up to volunteer for either a half-day or a full day, and you do not need to be an OLL volunteer to participate. All volunteers will receive free lunch, pro bono hours, and the opportunity to meet community legal professionals from Bloomington and Indianapolis.

Sign up to volunteer by filling out this form by Nov. 14th. If you have any questions, please contact Mary Morris or Nell Collins by emailing ollexecboard@gmail.com.

Bloomberg Fall Challenge

Practice your Bloomberg Law research skills and get a special treat! Your goal is to find the party names on a license agreement related to the keyword “Harry Potter.” Stop by the Bloomberg Law table in the lobby, or come to Cassandra Thompson’s office hours in the law library with the answer in order to claim your prize. Bloomberg Law office hours are held in the law library on Tuesdays from 3:30-4:30 p.m. and on Wednesdays from 9:30-10:30 a.m. For help completing the challenge, please come to office hours. For questions, please contact Cassandra Thompson at cooperac@iu.edu. The Fall Challenge runs until November 6. Happy hunting!

Registration Time Is Nigh. . .

3Ls will select their spring classes on Tuesday, November 5, and 2Ls and grad students will select their spring courses on Wednesday, November 6. Students should be on the lookout for an email from Alexis Lanham the night before their registration day with details of how registration works and the link to the registration webpage (the LORS).

. . . and So Is Wintersession

Here are the courses for this year’s Wintersession, offered during the last week before the spring semester (January 7-10):

• Pre-Trial Litigation: Depositions (Hon. Nancy Vaidik, Indiana Court of Appeals)
• The Lawyer as Business Executive (Prof. William Henderson)
You can register for these courses when you register for other spring semester classes.

Faculty and Staff News

Sarah Jane Hughes has had her article entitled “Property, Agency, and the Blockchain: New Technology and Longstanding Legal Paradigms” published as part of a Symposium series in the Wayne Law Review. The article, presented first as the keynote address at the February 2019 Symposium “The Emerging Blockchain and the Law” at Wayne State, explores the need for repetitive considerations of how blockchain technology affects our traditional concepts of property and agency. The article concludes that well-tested norms of property and agency may matter more, not less, when new technologies such as blockchain are used.
