Monday

Law Library Fall Fun Week

---

9 a.m. - 2 p.m. in the Library Lobby (also Tuesday and Wednesday)

The semester is well under way. As coursework and extracurricular activities ramp up, the law library invites you to stop by for a little break. It's Fall Fun Week in the Jerome Hall Law Library!

Stop by the library lobby today, Tuesday, and Wednesday for donuts, coffee, and plenty of other goodies. Not hungry? Kicked the caffeine habit? Stop by anyway for your chance to score some law library swag! We hope to see you there!

Self-care and time management strategies

3:45 – 4:30 p.m. in the Moot Court Room

Join Director Beck, Justin Zuschlag (CSO), and PGAs to explore various ideas and approaches toward self-care and time management.

National Lawyers Guild Disorientation Week: legal observer training

6 - 7 p.m. on Zoom

Interested in being a legal observer for protests, actions, and police interactions?

David Frank (Neighborhood Christian Legal Clinic, Indiana National Lawyers Guild member) will lead a training for all students interested in volunteering as a legal observer.

Extraterritoriality and International Law

Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, 8:15 a.m. - noon

This three-day conference consists of a series of workshop panels centered on the forthcoming Elgar Research Handbook on Extraterritoriality and International Law hosted by faculty at Indiana

University and Utrecht University. Thirty-eight scholars from over a dozen countries will participate. As of September 12, over 400 people from more than 65 countries have registered for the webinar. Students, faculty, and alumni are welcome to watch the discussions through a live webinar. To register, please go to the law school's conference website.

What's next for the Constitution and the Supreme Court?

Noon - 1 p.m. in the Moot Court Room and 121 in person, or on the Zoom Webinar

In October, the Supreme Court will begin its first full term with Justice Amy Coney Barrett in place of Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg. What does this change, and the recent additions of Justice Brett Kavanaugh and Justice Neil Gorsuch, mean for voting rights, criminal justice, religious liberty, reproductive freedom, and other crucially important — and hotly contested — constitutional principles? In honor of Constitution Day, join Professors Dan Conkle, Luis Fuentes-Rohwer, Steve Sanders, and India Thusi for a conversation about the past, present, and possible future of constitutional law.

RSVP in advance to attend in person. The first 65 registrants will attend in the DeLaney Moot Court Room (123), with overflow seating available in room 121. In-person attendance is limited to Maurer School of Law students, faculty, and staff and will be capped at 110.

Lunch will be provided to those who register in advance to attend in person.
