Judges and Lawyers Assistance Program

10 a.m. - 3 p.m. in Baier Hall

JLAP will be in Baier Hall meeting with students. Please make an appointment in advance by calling 317-833-0370. Tell them you're calling to set an appointment with a counselor at the Maurer School of Law. You will be provided a date, time, and room number.

Are you feeling stressed or overwhelmed? Caregiving or grieving? Maybe you are concerned for someone else. Don't wait; help and support are available now. When lawyers don't care for their mental well-being, we can't do our best for our clients, and we can't be the person we want to be for our community and family.

All contact with JLAP is confidential under Admission and Discipline Rule 31 §9 and Rules of Professional Conduct 8.3 (c).

CACR Speaker Series (Prof. Jonathan Mayer, Princeton)

Noon - 1 p.m. on Zoom

The Center for Applied Cybersecurity Research speaker Jonathan Mayer, JD/Ph.D., will present "The Platform Data Crisis and How to Solve It." Excerpt from Prof. Mayer's abstract:

"Technology platforms are central to modern life—and pose unprecedented challenges for society. Independent study and oversight are essential for understanding platform harms, including intrusive privacy practices, proliferating misinformation, and barriers to competition. But there is a platform data crisis: researchers, journalists, and regulators lack the tools needed to hold platforms accountable. In the first part of this seminar, I will describe the platform data crisis and discuss recent industry and government proposals to address it. These proposals would make meaningful progress, but also have significant limitations in the types of research and researchers they would enable. In the second part of the seminar, I will present Rally and WebScience, a new platform and toolkit for conducting real-world platform accountability research..."

Basic mediation and restorative justice training (40 hours) on Zoom: Winter 2022 dates

Training February 3, 5, 10, 12, 17, 19, 24, 26, and March 3 and 5.

The Community Justice and Mediation Center (CJAM) offers a 40-hour training program for those interested in learning about conflict resolution, mediation, and restorative justice. Participants will enhance their interpersonal skills in communication and listening, problem solving, and negotiation; and they will increase their understanding of restorative justice philosophy and methods, sources of conflict, and processes leading to constructive conflict resolution. The training should benefit anyone concerned with managing conflict and its resolution. The training also provides the background and skills necessary to work as a community mediator and restorative justice practitioner and qualifies participants to volunteer in CJAM's programs. The training will be led by senior mediators and restorative justice practitioners.

This winter, the training will take place on Zoom Thursday evenings, 7 to 9 p.m., and Saturdays, 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., over five weeks beginning February 3 and continuing through March 5. Tuition is $300.

Learn more about the training and register. You may also apply for a scholarship. For questions or more information, email training@jamcenter.org.

Faculty news

Professor Kevin Brown, an original participant of the CRT workshop in Madison, Wisconsin in 1989, will kick-off the College Office of Diversity and Inclusion's spring virtual series, "An Equity-Centered Faculty Lifecycle" with a talk titled, "An Equity Legacy for Future Generations." Drawing on his 35 years of knowledge and experiences on the faculty of the Maurer School of Law, Brown will reflect on the practices and policies that govern the faculty lifecycle and which either stand as barriers to or that promote equity.

January 27, 3:30 - 5 p.m. on Zoom.
