Monday

Ralph F. Fuchs Lecture with Professor Kevin Brown
Noon - 1 p.m. in the DeLaney Moot Court Room and on Zoom

Join us for our first endowed lecture of the 2023-2024 academic year with Professor Kevin Brown. Brown's talk is titled "The Long View of the End of Affirmative Action From One of Its Beneficiaries." Prof. Brown will discuss the implications of the end of affirmative action for American society and will situate affirmative action in its historical place and discuss the most likely outcomes of its end.

Professor Brown is the Richard S. Melvin Professor of Law Emeritus here at the Law School and is currently the Mitchell Willoughby
Professor of Law at the University of South Carolina School of Law.

One hour of CLE credit is available for this lecture, which can be attended in person or virtually.

The Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot competition in Vienna

Interested candidates should contact Prof. Angie Raymond (angraymo@iu.edu), International Commercial Arbitration Moot Coordinator Professor, by September 18.

The Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot is a competition for law students to foster the study and practice of international commercial sales law and arbitration. Students from all countries are eligible (82 countries participated in the 27th Vis Moot). The Moot involves a dispute arising out of a contract of sale between two countries that are party to the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods. The contract provides that any dispute that might arise is to be settled by arbitration in Danubia, a country that has enacted the UNCITRAL Model Law on International Commercial Arbitration and is a party to the Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards. The arbitral rules to be applied rotate yearly among the arbitration rules of co-sponsoring institutions of the Moot.
