Professor Jerome Hall Honored in Manila

Indiana University Alumni and legal groups in Manila, capital of the Philippine Islands, recently honored Prof. Jerome Hall of the I.U. School of Law with a series of luncheons and banquets.

On leave from I.U., Prof. Hall participated in a five-week seminar on Anglo-American law in Korea and was scheduled to give lectures in Japan, Formosa, the Philippines, and India before going to England and Ireland as Fulbright lecturer to the United Kingdom.

Prof. Hall found a warm welcome awaiting him in the Philippines, especially from the large number of I.U. Alumni of that country.
