

Indiana University

Hall honored

Jerome Hall (center), Indiana University Distinguished Professor Emeritus of Law, was honored recently at an unveiling of his portrait in the IU Law Building at Bloomington. Professor Hall, who retired from the IU faculty in 1970, and Mrs. Hall discuss the portrait (background) with Robert C. Turner, vice chancellor for administration and budgetary planning. The portrait was a gift from law alumni. Professor Hall now teaches at Hastings College of Law in San Francisco.

10-22-71