Greetings from Bloomington

The first half of the fall semester is behind us. The Class of 2015 is gearing up for its first finals, and our new faculty members have quickly become an integral part of our community.

Meanwhile, the search for a new dean is well under way. Members of the search committee have been meeting with students, faculty, and staff. In addition, the committee is eager to hear from alumni about their vision for the school, and the qualifications of a new dean they would like the committee to consider during the search and screen process. Please send your comments to msldean@iu.edu.

Did you participate in Moot Court? If so (and even if you didn't), you may enjoy serving as a judge. The competition runs through November 3, and several slots are still available. To register, visit the Sherman Minton Moot Court Competition website. Whether you come for Moot Court or for another event, I hope to see you on campus soon.

Yours,

Hannah L. Buxbaum
Interim Dean and John E. Schiller Chair in Legal Ethics

Alumni role in students' career success is more crucial than ever

You're invited to get involved!

In today's competitive job market, alumni play a more important role than ever in helping Maurer students and recent grads find the job that's right for them. In the short video below, you'll hear directly from students about how alumni have helped them - and from alumni who find the experience rewarding as well.

From attending our résumé roundtable in Bloomington to mentoring a recent grad in Southern California, you can help guide the next generation of lawyers to success. There are many ways to get involved, and we hope you'll consider doing so.

Traveling? Send us your photo wearing Maurer garb!

Are you traveling this fall? If so, have your picture taken wearing a Maurer hat, t-shirt, or other identifiable garb and send it to us at lawalum@indiana.edu. Make sure there's a recognizable landmark in the background! We'll publish the photos in the December edition of ergo.
