¶ A man between two lawyers is like a mouse between two cats. Present day law is a very intricate cobweb which will catch flies but lets the wasps and hornets get through. A Law-student is an ambitious young man who has designs on bringing the railways to time and usually devotes his legal talent after graduation in defending horse-thieves or chasing an ambulance. A few lawyers go to the Supreme Bench, others sit in deserted offices and watch clients go by, while some lawyers go to prison.

The Foster Chapter of Phi Delta Phi was installed at Indiana fourteen years ago. The fraternity originated at the University of Michigan in 1869. A high standard of scholarship is demanded of those invited to membership. Recommendations on the basis of scholarship are first made by the Law Faculty, after which the names so presented are voted on with regard to their general qualifications and desirability. Every member of Law Faculty belongs to Phi Delta Phi. Ralph V. Sollit and Curtis Shake are among the recent members meeting with success in actual court practice.

BRYAN PRIZE CONTEST

Sherman Minton, of New Albany, won the annual Bryan Prize Contest held April 7, in the Auditorium of the Student Building. Minton spoke on "The Relation of the Executive to the Legislative Department of the United States."

The Bryan Prize Contest is under the direction of the department of History and Political Science and usually takes place on Foundation Day, but this year, various circumstances forced it to be postponed until April. The subject is limited to some principle underlying our form of government. The interest on two hundred and fifty dollars contributed by William Jennings Bryan constitutes the prize.
