* It is our plan in each issue to list material which has occurred in legal periodicals for the preceding month. Thus at the end of the year our readers will have a complete list of these writings as they occurred for the particular month in which they were published. Members of the association are welcome to read any of the articles in the periodicals mentioned in the Supreme Court Library, State House, Indianapolis; or in the Law Library of Indiana University, Bloomington. Many of these articles may also be found in a number of other law libraries in the state. In addition to the leading articles, we shall list a few of the more significant editorial notes and comments and other material that occur in the leading law reviews of the country.
