STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

MID-WINTER MEETING

The Mid-Winter Meeting of the Indiana State Bar Association will be held at the Claypool Hotel, Indianapolis, on January 16, 1937. The principal speaker at the banquet will be Mr. Murray Seasongood, of the Cincinnati, Ohio, Bar. Business sessions will be held in the forenoon and afternoon, with the principal address by Clarence E. Manion in the afternoon.

In view of the fact that the Indiana Legislature will be in session it is probable that a number of suggestions as to legislation in which the bar is interested will come up for discussion.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF INDIANA JUDICIAL COUNCIL

Your editor has been advised by Mr. Bernard C. Gavit, Secretary of the Indiana Judicial Council, that the first annual report of the Council was filed December 1, 1936, and that 5,000 copies of the report will be printed for distribution. The printed reports will be distributed by the County Clerks in the several counties of the State about December 15, 1936.

If you and I could sit down and talk together about the things which the Bar could do as an organized group, we should probably agree. We want a better administration of justice; although as individuals our efforts may have too little effect, if we work together I have no doubt of our ability to convince legislatures, courts, and the public that what we propose is sound and in the public interest.

There are 78,000 of us in state bar associations and 30,000 or 40,000 more in local bar organizations. But we don't get together; our groups working separately have failed to realize on the possibilities of united action.

You know what happened at our Boston meeting this summer. We there achieved greater possibilities for group action of the Bar of the United States than have ever existed before. In our new Constitution, adopted by an overwhelming vote, we give representation to every state bar association and to as many of the larger locals as could be represented without making the membership of the House of Delegates so large as to be unwieldy.

You are therefore directly represented in the American Bar Association and through your delegate can have your views presented. There are many advantages in this. For example, for the first time our representatives who go before Congressional committees to advocate or
