A Message from the Secretary

Thomas C. Batchelor
Indiana State Bar Association

Follow this and additional works at: https://www.repository.law.indiana.edu/ilj

Part of the Legal Profession Commons

Recommended Citation
Available at: https://www.repository.law.indiana.edu/ilj/vol10/iss3/5

This Special Feature is brought to you for free and open access by the Law School Journals at Digital Repository @ Maurer Law. It has been accepted for inclusion in Indiana Law Journal by an authorized editor of Digital Repository @ Maurer Law. For more information, please contact rvaughan@indiana.edu.
A Message From the President

The Board of Managers met at Bloomington on November 3rd with every member of the Board and every officer of the Association present. Such interest and loyalty are more impressive when consideration is given to the fact that many of the members traveled over four hundred miles in making the round trip, all at their own expense. Although the By-Laws authorize the payment of such expenses where the meeting is not in connection with a meeting of the Association, the officers, board members and committee members for years have waived their right to reimbursement so that funds needed for the Journal, for speakers of note at the meetings of the Association and other necessary expenses would not be depleted.

The Board decided to recommend for passage at the ensuing session of the General Assembly the three bills presented to the last session. No change was made in the procedural bill—the one restoring the rule making power to the Supreme Court, but a change in the method of appointing some of the members of the Judicial Council was made. (These bills, as heretofore approved by the Association, will be found in the October, 1932, Indiana Law Journal VIII, pages 52-54.) The integrated bar bill published in the January, 1933, Indiana Law Journal VIII, pages 260-263, was approved except for the following changes: In Section 4 the dues for active members is reduced from seven dollars to five dollars, and in Section 7 the first three words of the fourth line reading: “from its membership” are omitted.

Elsewhere in this issue of the Journal will be found the report of the Committee on the Administration of Justice of the Indiana State Committee on Governmental Economy, of which a summary will be given at the mid-winter meeting. Time did not permit the reading, much less a discussion, of this comprehensive report by the Board, and it is therefore offered to the members of the Association at the earliest date possible so that they may individually express any criticism to the committee or to those who draft the bills recommended in the report.

The program of the mid-winter meeting and the sketch of the attainments of the banquet speakers, which appear elsewhere in this issue, speak for themselves and warrant a large attendance.

Sincerely,

Wilmer T. Fox, President.

A Message from the Secretary

Your Secretary dislikes to insert into these otherwise pleasant pages of the Indiana Law Journal any mention of delinquent dues but this is the time of the year when the subject is uppermost in his mind.

The financial status of the Association has improved considerably in the last several years and there are fewer delinquent members at the present time than there were at this time last year or the year before. There are, however, a great many members who have not paid their dues for the year now ending and quite a few who owe for the preceding year as well. If these members would pay up at this time the Association would be on a thoroughly solvent basis, with sufficient funds on hand to carry on confidently the rather ambitious program mapped out for 1935.

In any voluntary association the problem of collecting dues is most important. The Indiana State Bar Association instead of resorting to “drives” or disciplinary measures has endeavored to make the Association’s activities so valuable to members that they will pay willingly and with a feeling of getting value received. The result has been the improved condition above referred to.

In view of the printing costs of the Indiana Law Journal, however, it has become necessary to restrict the mailing list to only those members who are in good standing. Thus, starting in January those who still owe dues for 1934 will not receive the Journal. The editorial program of the Journal for 1935 is most attractive. You will not want to miss a single issue.

Pay your 1934 and delinquent dues now—so the Secretary can talk about something more pleasant in his next message.

Thomas C. Batchelor,
Secretary.

The Mid-Winter Meeting
Claypool Hotel, Indianapolis, December 15, 1934

Forenoon Session—10:00 O’clock
Assembly Hall—Claypool Hotel
Registration at 9:00 o’clock.
Meeting called to order at 10:00 o’clock.
Report of Entertainment Committee—Frank C. Dailey
Review of the 1934 Session of the American Bar Association—Eli F. Seebirt
Report of Grievance Committee—George L. Denny
Report of Jurisprudence and Law Reform Committee—George O. Dix
Report of Legislative Committee—Joseph G. Wood
Report of Illegal Practice of Law Committee—Howard S. Young
Report of Membership Committee—Fred C. Gause

Afternoon Session—1:45 O’clock
Assembly Hall—Claypool Hotel
Report on Revision of Statutes—Wade H. Free
Report of Legal Education Committee—Thomas F. Konop
Report of Criminal Jurisprudence Committee—Philip Lutz, Jr.
A Summary of the Work and Recommendations of the Committee on the Administration of Justice of the Indiana State Committee on Governmental Economy—Bernard C. Gavit

Evening Session—6:30 O’clock
Riley Room—Claypool Hotel
Mid-Winter Banquet.
Introduction of Guests.
“The Human Element in the Administration of Justice”
Hon. Charles M. Hay, City Counselor for the City of St. Louis
“Investigation and Detection of Crime From the Prosecutor’s Viewpoint”

Charles M. Hay

Hon. Charles M. Hay, who will address the mid-winter meeting of the Indiana State Bar Association on “The Human Element in the Administration of Justice,” was the nominee of his party for United States Senator from Missouri in 1928, is at present City Counselor for the City of St. Louis, and