News of Bench and Bar
NEWS OF BENCH AND BAR

Professor W. D. Henderson of the University of Michigan faculty gave an address on Technocracy before members of the Allen County Bar Association at their dinner-meeting, held at the Chamber of Commerce in Fort Wayne, Wednesday, February 22, 1933.

New officers of the Knox County Bar Association were installed at a banquet held at the Union Depot Hotel in Vincennes Saturday, February 11, 1933. C. B. Kessinger gave an address on "The Bar of Yesterday" and Curtis G. Shake talked on "Lincoln as a Lawyer."

Arthur L. Gilliom, Indianapolis attorney, gave the principal address at the annual meeting of the Boone County Bar Association held in the American Legion rooms in the Station building at Lebanon, Wednesday, February 22, 1933. Ernest R. Stewart was elected president of the Association for the ensuing year, Roscoe Hollingsworth was elected vice-president, and William H. Smith and Guy M. Voris were re-elected treasurer and secretary, respectively. Elsa O. Rogers, retiring president, presided at the meeting.

Judge Clyde C. Carlin of Angola gave an address at the dinner-meeting of the Noble County Bar Association held at the Gawthrop Hotel in Kendallville, Wednesday, March 1, 1933.

The Henry County Bar Association honored George R. Jeffrey, retiring United States District Attorney, at a dinner Tuesday, February 28, at Bell's in New Castle.

The annual mid-winter banquet of the Greene County Bar Association was held at the American Legion Hall in Bloomfield, Friday, February 24, 1933. "Law as a Profession" was the subject discussed by Judge George G. Humphreys. "How to Get Business" was the subject of the talk given by Oscar Shields of Jasonville, and "Law as a Business" was discussed by Guy H. Humphreys, of Bloomfield. John A. Riddle of Terre Haute presided as toastmaster.

The annual meeting of the Fountain County Bar Association was held in the courtroom at Covington Monday, February 20, 1933. The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Charles E. Massey, Covington; vice-president, Lee Whitehall, Attica; secretary-treasurer, John P. Brissey, Covington.

Thurman Biddinger was elected president of the Grant County Bar Association at a special meeting held Tuesday, February 14, 1933, at Marion. Resolutions were adopted on the death of Mrs. Violetta Van Devanter.

Judge L. W. Royse was elected president of the Kosciusko County Bar Association at a meeting held in the courtroom at Warsaw Friday, February 10, 1933. Other officers elected were: Ezra Graham, vice-president; Morrison Rockhill, secretary, and George Bowser, treasurer. Resolutions were adopted in memory of Homer Longfellow, who was a prominent member of the Association.

Arthur D. McKinley was elected president of the Delaware County Bar Association at a luncheon-meeting held in the Y. M. C. A. at Muncie
Friday, February 17, 1933. Other new officers are Ray W. Clark, vice-presidential; Charline McGuie, secretary, and Earl G. DeFur, treasurer.

Dr. Andrew W. Cordier of Manchester College, gave an address on "Current Trends in the Economic Depression" before members of the Indianapolis Bar Association at a dinner-meeting at the Columbia Club, Wednesday, March 1.